Height: 6'2" Weight: 240 lbs.
Battles Fought: 2433
Wins: 1889 Losses: 347 Ties: 197
Win Percentage: 78%
Nicknames: Star-Spangled Avenger, Living Legend of World War II, Cap
Arch-enemies: Red Skull, Baron Zemo
First Appearance: CAPTAIN AMERICA COMICS #1, Mar., 1941

During the most desperate hours of World War Two, a frail young man named Steve Rogers volunteered for a dangerous experiment. Ingesting the top secret Super-Soldier serum, he became Captain America, the living symbol of freedom. His body now physically perfect, his fighting skills now without equal, Cap joined the war against the Nazis and contributed greatly to the Allied Powers' eventual victory. Today, he continues that tradition as he fights to defend America against all those forces that would threaten her.

Did You Know: Captain America was frozen in a block of ice in the Arctic for over a decade before the super hero team known as the Avengers rescued him!

Arch-enemies: Doctor Octopus, Hobgoblin, Kingpin, Venom
First Appearance (in black costume): AMAZING SPIDER-MAN #252, May, 1984

While he fought in the Secret Wars on another planet, Spider-Man's original costume was destroyed. An alien machine made this new black costume to replace it. Although it possessed built-in web-shooters and allowed him to change his clothes with but a thought, Spidey was forced to abandon it when he discovered that it was actually an alien symbiote that wanted to take over his body. Since then, he occasionally wears an identical costume that he made from cloth.

Nicknames: Jade-Jaws, Green Goliath, the Hulkster, Ol' Greenskin
First Appearance: THE INCREDIBLE HULK #1, May, 1962

While working at a nuclear research facility, scientist Bruce Banner was accidentally caught in a gamma bomb explosion. The blast transformed him into the monstrous, rampaging Hulk, a creature with childlike intelligence and superhuman strength (he can lift over 100 tons when enraged), which he often directs against those who would threaten him or other innocent beings. Ever since, when enraged, Banner turns into the Hulk and stays that way until the raging giant calms down and reverts back to his normal human form.

THE THING™ vs. THE HULK®

88

When: FANTASTIC FOUR #s 25 26
April, May, 1964
Where: New York City

In an attempt to take revenge on the New York-based super-team known as the Avengers, the Hulk was tearing up Manhattan. Only the Thing had a chance of stopping him and saving the city. But as powerful as he was, the Thing knew he was no match for the Hulk in a one-on-one slugfest. Instead, he applied a skillful, often desperate combination of wit and muscle against the Green Goliath. Using everything from girders and buses to high voltage power lines, the Thing slowed down the Hulk long enough for the Avengers and the rest of the Fantastic Four to finally join the battle and chase the Hulk away.

Doctor Doom had stolen the Silver Surfer's power cosmic to use in conquering the world. No weapon on Earth could stop him. Even Doom's arch-enemies, the Fantastic Four, fell before his evil might. Out of desperation, Mister Fantastic built the Anti-Cosmic Flying Wing to drain the cosmic energy from Doom. When Doom set out to destroy the robot craft, it led him to the edge of space, a barrier that Galactus, the Surfer's former master, had forbade the Surfer to pass. The impact sent Doom falling to Earth, stripped of his power and defeated.

THOR

When: THOR #s 351-353 Jan.-March, 1985
Where: Asgard

SURTUR

Surtur, the flame-demon, was poised at the gates of Asgard, legendary home of the Norse Gods. His plan was to thrust his Sword of Twilight into Asgard's Eternal Flame and create the ultimate weapon of destruction, which he would use to tear apart the very fabric of the universe. Thor summoned the power of a thousand suns and hurled it at Surtur. But Surtur mockingly turned that power against Thor and smashed his way into Asgard. The universe appeared doomed. But Thor, together with his half-brother Loki and their father Odin, launched a counterattack. Surtur was defeated, but Odin appeared to have been destroyed along with him.

Kraven the Hunter confronted the fact that he was an old man. Refusing to quietly retire, he began his last hunt. His goal was twofold. He wanted to both defeat and become his arch-enemy Spider Man. He tranquilized Spider-Man, then buried him alive! While Spider Man lay trapped in his coffin, Kraven, dressed as Spider Man, launched a brutal war against criminals, eventually capturing the super-villain Vermin. Spider Man ultimately escaped and found Kraven. But before he could bring Kraven to justice, Kraven died leaving a confession of all he had done.

DR. OCTOPUS

Dr. Octopus had committed the crime of the century. He had stolen the Defense Department's new weapon, the Nullifier. Even worse, Spider-Man had helped him, or so it appeared, after Doc Ock had used the device to rob Spidey of his memory and convince him that he, too, was a super villain. But Octopus's plan to use Spider-Man as a criminal pawn ended when the two had a brutal falling out, which ended with the Nullifier back in the army's hands. Spider-Man escaped, but it was not until much later that he regained his memory.

Synopsis - This issue featured the dramatic debut of the Punisher! The super-villain known as the Jackal had tricked the Punisher into believing that Spider-Man was a super villain who had to be killed. The Punisher succeeded in surprising, trapping and, in what appeared to be a fall to the death, accidentally killing Spider-Man. But Spider-Man escaped and tracked the Punisher to his hideout. There he turned the tables on the Punisher and revealed to him how the Jackal had duped and double-crossed him. Furious, the Punisher disappeared into the city, having vowed to make the Jackal pay in full for using him as a pawn.
